UBC Sauder: A leading global business school

The UBC Sauder School of Business is one of the world’s leading academic business schools. Located in Vancouver, Canada, UBC Sauder is strategically situated at the dynamic crossroads of the international marketplace to provide a global business perspective. Accredited by AACSB, you can expect a world-class business education.

Elevate your career with a part-time Canadian MBA taught in Shanghai by world-renowned UBC Sauder faculty

In partnership with Antai College of Economics and Management at Shanghai Jiao Tong University (SJTU), UBC Sauder’s Robert H. Lee Graduate School offers an International MBA (IMBA) program taught entirely by UBC Sauder’s internationally renowned faculty. The curriculum is taught 100% in English, covers advanced business and management techniques and is an accredited joint program approved by the Ministry of Education of the People’s Republic of China.

Learn on the weekend. Apply your knowledge during the week.

You’re an expert in your field, but you may not have had the opportunity to fully learn how an entire organization comes together. The curriculum is designed to give you a comprehensive understanding of the broader picture of business, so you can immediately add value to your organization and clients. The program is designed for you to gain business insights on the weekend so they can be applied during your weekday job.

Class schedule

Typically, courses are delivered at the SJTU campus over a half day on Friday and two full days on Saturday and Sunday, every three to four weeks. To see a sample weekend schedule, please visit our website.

Expand your expertise. Elevate your career.

Regardless of what industry you work in, an understanding of how different business functions work together is extremely valuable. Upon graduation, you will be an expert in your role and have a holistic perspective on global business.

UBC IMBA curriculum

Our curriculum builds the strategic, analytical, and leadership mindset of global decision-makers. As the program progresses, you will find yourself thinking more and more like an experienced leader and making critical decisions that impact the success of a company.

Capstone residency

Part celebration, part competition, Capstone is the culmination of all your hard work in the UBC IMBA. The week will begin with the last advanced course in the program and finish off with an enriching two-day business simulation. This is when you will work alongside – and compete against – your fellow UBC IMBA classmates who, by this point in the program, will have become your friends.

The program begins with eight foundation courses:

Foundation courses

- Business Strategy
- Foundations In Accounting I
- Foundations Of Managerial Economics
- Operations & Logistics
- Marketing
- Application Of Statistics In Management
- Introductory Finance
- Foundations In Accounting II

A community of excellence

Across every discipline, faculty at UBC Sauder are among the very best in the world. They're not just academics, they're also business leaders who, as in-demand consultants, apply their sought-after expertise to the real world.

Yale School of Management, New Haven, United States

Exclusively taught by UBC Sauder professors

The UBC IMBA courses are taught in English by UBC Sauder professors. Classes in the UBC IMBA are dynamic discussions where professors and students share their rich experiences and insights.

Vancouver residency

For these two action-packed weeks, you will fly to the beautiful UBC Vancouver campus where you will enhance your business acumen through full-time in-class learning and case studies. Plus, you will further your professional development through interactive workshops, cultural events, and programs.

Global Network for Advanced Management

UBC Sauder is the only Canadian member of the prestigious Global Network for Advanced Management, spearheaded by the Yale School of Management. In this optional component of the program, you have the opportunity to earn a Master of Advanced Management degree from Yale, gaining access to international learning, networking, and collaboration opportunities with business schools around the world, both in-person and online.

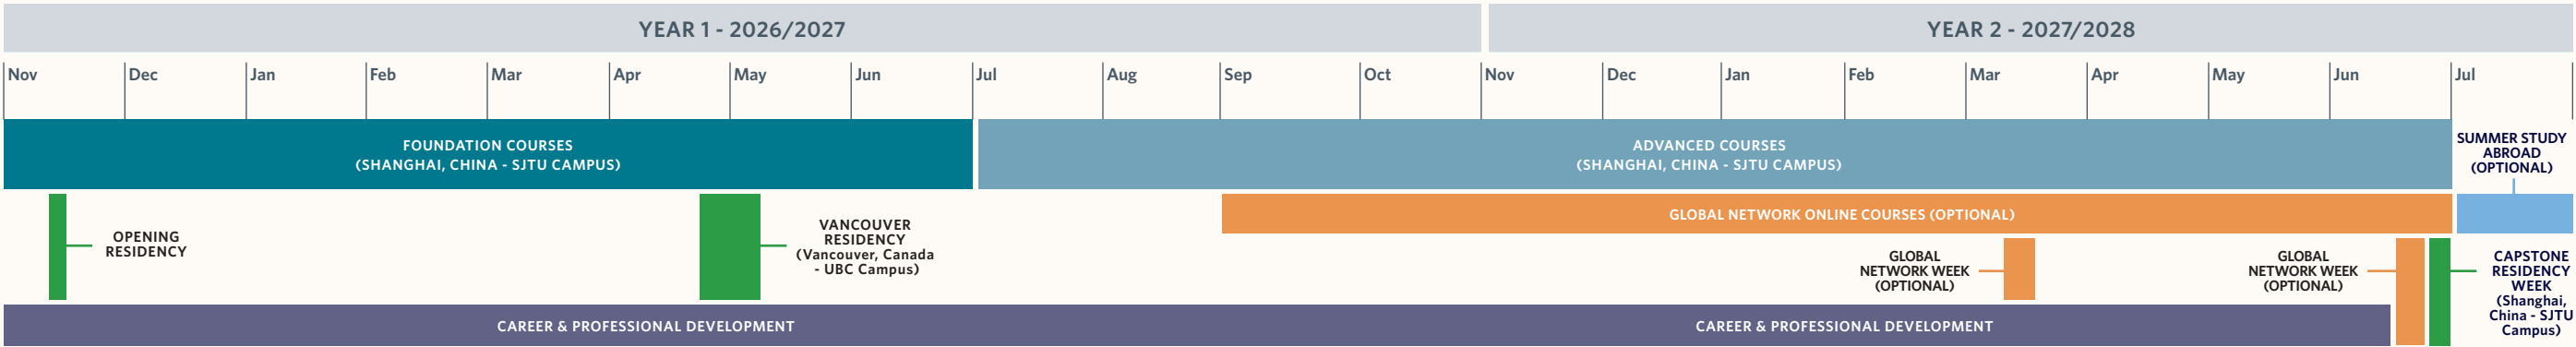

Summer Study Abroad

Study business at one of our global partner schools. Take on new perspectives and absorb different cultural approaches to business. Past students have pursued summer studies at ESSEC Business School, Cologne Business School, Vienna University of Economics and Business, EDHEC Business School, and many more.

Our admissions process

The UBC IMBA selection process is rigorous. We deliberately keep our cohort small – with an intake of 30 to 50 students every year – to help foster a more collegial and personal environment. Applicants are carefully selected against competitive requirements to ensure that, once in the program, you learn from peers who have demonstrated vision, leadership, and experience.

Step 1

Review our admission requirements & apply online

- a. To be considered for the UBC IMBA Degree, it is recommended that you review our admission requirements and ensure you understand the components of the application at: sauder.ubc.ca/imba
- b. Create an account on our website and get started on your application.

Step 2

Submit documentation

Applications will be reviewed once we have received copies of all required documents and references, and verified your test scores. Please note that if you submit unofficial documents at the time of application, all official documents must be received by the Admissions office no later than October 30, 2026.

- ✓ Transcripts/degree certificates/translation
- ✓ Letters of reference (electronic)
- ✓ English Proficiency Exam (required for applicants whose degrees are from a university in which English was not the official language of instruction)

Step 3

Await results

- a. All applicants considered for admission will be contacted by the Robert H. Lee Graduate School for an interview either in person or by video call.
- b. If successful, you will receive a letter of admission from UBC Sauder’s Robert H. Lee Graduate School.
- c. Accept your offer! Get ready to join the class, starting in November 2026.
